July 4, 2021 marks the 245th year of the founding of the United States, as reckoned by the famous Declaration of Independence, which declares the grievances of the colonists before King George III and ultimately demands the remedy of establishing a separate, sovereign state. The writers of the Declaration recognized that their quest for Independence flows from their dignity as human persons, "endowed by their creator with certain inalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness." Governments are thus established to protect these rights, and by this objective, they derive their just powers from those governed until they become destructive towards these ends.

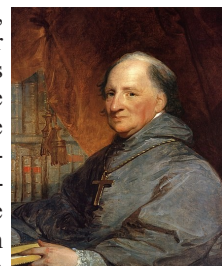

The writers of the Declaration and the founders of our union were largely deistic humanists, that is, people who believed in a god who created all that is, and is recognized as benevolent and powerful. But this deity stays distant from his people, giving humans the agency to do good and meritorious acts, through natural virtue. Part of this sensibility flows from the Protestant Revolution which had been raging in Europe for several hundred years by time of the American Revolution, coupled with a certain amount of agnostic humanism which was becoming popular in 'liberated' peoples who equated "the Church" with part of the system of oppression of people through political and social power.

Nonetheless, a prominent Catholic family, represented by Charles Carroll (1737-1832) of the

Charles Carroll

"Baltimore Carrolls" would endorse the document, pledging his Life, his Fortune, and his Sacred Honor to the endeavor to establish this new nation. Charles was a cousin of John Carroll, who would become the first bishop, and then Archbishop of Baltimore. The Carrolls had immigrated from Ireland in the 18th century and were wealthy plantation owners (who opposed slavery) in the state of Maryland. After the War for Independence, Charles would later serve in the state government of Maryland, and briefly as a Senator in the federal government.

Abp. John Carroll

As Catholics, we have not only a rich heritage in our own faith, but also as citizens of a nation whose founding principles comes not from royal prerogative or even popular demand, but instead, as we read, come from divine favor towards those who recognize and embrace the dignity of the human person. While the anthropology (understanding of the human person) of deists and Christians differs in the understandings of the origins human merit and the destiny of human salvation, it is the cooperation of people of goodwill that has made our nation strong over its history, and which remains the source of our strength and destiny as a nation today.

On this Fourth of July, I ask you to pray for our nation... for the healing of our political system, for the deliverance of those who feel oppressed by injustices which linger in our society, for those who serve our nation as part of our military and other protection services for our citizens, working and sacrificing for peace and safety in our streets. Please pray for justice in our courts and wisdom in the halls of legislature. Pray for those who would aspire to take leadership roles within our government, that they may act in truth and justice, in the best ideals of our founding. Pray for God's blessing upon a land which is rich and bountiful, and all those who contribute to society by their labor, their artistic expression, and their patriotism. May God Bless America and deliver her from those who would wish her harm on this Independence Day.

Liturgy of the Word for Children

Sunday, August 1

The Liturgy of the Word for Children will resume Sunday, August 1. Children can participate at the 8 and 10:30 a.m. masses. This is an opportunity for children ages 3 to 7 to hear the gospel in words more suitable to their understanding. It is not a play time, but fidgeting and talking are allowed as an adult leader encourages the children to talk about the gospel message together and also guides them as they work on a color sheet that further explains the message of the gospel with pictures. The children then take the color sheet home to show family and to talk as a family about the color sheet and the message of the gospel."

If you have any questions or want to be involved as an adult leader please call Carrie Potter 217-2 57-5278 or Vicki Wittland 217-2 23-3610. Those persons that signed up through the stewardship renewal to assist with this ministry will be contacted soon. "

A Message from Mrs. Carol Frericks—Principal

Dedicating “A Place For Grace”

During Junefest on Sunday, June 6th, we recognized the new plaque displayed in our Nature Classroom in the backyard at St. Dominic School. We look forward to utilizing this dedicated area as A Place for Grace during the school year. We invite families to use this peaceful place during the summer to pray together.

On Wednesday, October 14, 2020, St. Dominic School students and staff gathered in this Nature Classroom with members of Grace's family to dedicate this beautiful space as A Place for Grace in memory of Grace Schell who attended our school. Grace is a Child of God who shared God's love with others by her beautiful smile, her upbeat attitude, and her joyful spirit. Her family shared God's love by using their time, talent, and treasure to create this beautiful Nature Classroom. Many children of God will now use this classroom as A Place for Grace, where we can pray, learn, spread joy, and experience Holy Moments just like Grace Schell. May God bless us so we can all #BeLikeGrace.

MASS INTENTIONS for 2022

We will be opening our Mass Intention Book beginning July 6th. The following is a reminder of the guidelines for mass intentions from Father Tom's bulletin article last year.

"Finally, in order that all might have access to having Masses celebrated for their loved ones, we typically ask that a name appear no more than once a month at a weekend Mass. Indeed, in order to spread out the intentions across the various Masses celebrated all week long, we are going to ask that if multiple intentions are presented, that they should be spread out with no more than 1/2 on weekends, and at least 1/2 on weekdays. We will do our best to satisfy requests for specific dates (anniversaries of birth, death, etc). But if a date is already chosen and we are requested to add a second intention to that day because of the personal importance of the day, we must have permission of both in order to set a day with a double intention. Finally, I am going to ask our secretaries to insure that particular intentions scheduled on Christmas, Easter, or other high-holy days occur no more than once every three years. I also intend to hold back one such intention to myself on each of these holidays in order to be able to offer it to those who are suffering a 'fresh' loss at the holidays. This is sometimes the gift that brings entire families back to Church and makes the holiday season just a little more bearable."
