A Message from Fr. Tom Donovan:

Paul wrote a letter to the newborn Church in the Roman province of Galatia between about 50 and 60 AD. He concerned himself mainly with promoting unity among its members, downplaying conflicts between Jewish and Greek Christians. The reading we hear at today Mass is the conclusion of that letter where he says that he would “never boast except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ”. Being Jew or Gentile makes no difference to him, but rather that one becomes a “new creation” in Christ. (Gal 6:17-18)

There is a parallel in this conclusion with the last paragraph of the long form of today’s Gospel. In the Gospel, where Jesus sent out the 72 to preach the coming of the Lord. When they returned, they spoke highly of the power that flowed from their hands... and Jesus confirmed that they had the power to charm snakes, battle spirits, and endure scorpions... but that they were not to rejoice because of these spirits being subject to them, but that they were to rejoice because their names were written in heaven! (Luke 10:19-20)

Both readings are trying to cut to the deepest truth of our Christian lives and ministries and apostolates. We will witness great things and participate in great signs of Divine Grace as Disciples of the Lord. We will also make tremendous sacrifices. We will affiliate and identify ourselves with certain practices of religion. The key difference in being Christian however, is that we bear the likeness of the death and resurrection in our bodies. That in doing so, our names are written in heaven itself! This is not to say that the external observances of our faith are un-important, but rather that they must lead to a true conversion of heart and a growing trust of God’s power working through us. Indeed, “success” while on mission is not the primary measure of God’s power, but “faithfulness” and “trust” in his will. Some disciples seemed “unsuccessful” and shook the dust from their feet as they left their towns. Paul himself recognized the defeat in the cross through the many stumbles and humiliations along his path. But in all of these trials, the promise of a place in God’s Kingdom motivates each to continue on his or her path, offering whatever fruits result to the glory of God’s providence. —

On this 246th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, the day of the founding of our nation, please join me in the following prayer for our nation, composed by the United States Catholic Conference of Bishops (USCCB):

O God our Creator, from your provident hand we have received our right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.
You have called us as your people and given us the right and the duty to worship you,
the only true God, and your Son, Jesus Christ.

Through the power and working of your Holy Spirit, you call us to live out our faith in the midst of the world, bringing the light and the saving truth of the Gospel to every corner of society.

We ask you to bless us in our vigilance for the gift of religious liberty.
Give us the strength of mind and heart to readily defend our freedoms when they are threatened;
give us courage in making our voices heard on behalf of the rights of your Church and the freedom of conscience of all people of faith.

Grant, we pray, O heavenly Father, a clear and united voice to all your sons and daughters gathered in your Church in this decisive hour in the history of our nation, so that, with every trial withstood and every danger overcome —for the sake of our children, our grandchildren, and all who come after us—this great land will always be “one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.”
We ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Transmission of our Catholic Faith to the next generation

Last weekend, we shared with you some of the challenges the Church is experiencing in transmitting the faith to the next generation. From the study, I quoted two aspects of transmission of the faith that are contributing the most to a young person leaving the practice of the Faith: "they stopped believing in the religion's teachings" and "their family was never that religious when they were growing up."

I believe we need to help facilitate parents in their responsibility of transmitting the faith to their children so that both the parents and their children are able to, as Saint Peter teaches "always be prepared to make a defense to anyone who calls you to account for the hope that is in you, yet do it with gentleness and reference..." For these reasons, we as a parish will begin a family-based Catechetical program with the assistance of our parish catechists whose love and service to the Church have brought the light of Christ to so many of the faithful, and by God's grace will continue to do so. I ask all of you to pray for this initiative. Your generosity in sharing the gift of faith with your brothers and sisters in Christ is pleasing to Our Lord and will bear good fruit. Let us support each other with our prayers and service.

Watch for more on this concern next week and what we can do to turn this around.
